Questions & Answers

Question 1: What is DAI's anticipated duration, budget, and/or expected level of effort for the Fisheries Case Study (RFP Page 6)?

Answer 1: There are no guidelines for duration, budget, or expected LOE for the Fisheries Case Study. Offerors are not required to specify level of effort or provide a budget/cost proposal for the case study. Offerors should, however, describe the roles of various team members as well as estimates on the duration the Offeror deems necessary to complete the study. On page 6 of the RFP it states this should include "time spent on desktop research and time to be spent in the field". "Time" in this reference should be taken to mean the anticipated timeline for the main phases of the assessment, not overall Level of Effort.

Question 2: Can offerors include an Annex (non-page counting) for the Case Study?

Answer 2: Offers may not include non-page counting annexes for the Case Study.

Question 3: Can offerors propose separate Fixed Daily Burdened Rates for different labor types (expatriate, TCN, CCN, HO) within the labor categories?

Answer 3: Yes, offerors may further sub-categorize for different labor types within the labor Categories described on RFP pages 15-16 so long as the proposed categories are clearly presented and consistent with the requirements stated in the RFP.
